E Hine For Young Wahine

The E Hine Fund has been created to help young women pursue their aspirations or projects and positively impact young women and their communities through a community-friendly application process.

Applications for 2023 will open on Sunday 9 July and close on Sunday 20

August

We only have one 'rule' for what's funded and that's applications that relate to supporting young women in the Greater Wellington region on a group or individual basis. Guiding the Future with Youth Input

At the recent Sport NZ Youth Hui, Sport NZ Regional Sport Development Consultant, Charissa Barham, encouraged the sports and organisations to seek opportunities for young people to be involved but said that first of all you need to clarify:

Having youth input into the development of your sport or activity has become increasingly important and potentially critical, to the evolution and survival of many sports and physical activity. Rather than youth engagement being a token gesture and not listening or actioning any of their suggestions, turn it into a positive experience for everyone involved and reap the benefits.

To discover ways to encourage rangitahi to be involved, check out the full article here.

"Whats on"

Activation is working on updating our website to include a "whats on" segment that will be linked to the Upper Hutt Council website. This information will also be included in the weekly pinned post on the Activation Facebook page. This will allow the community to find information on what is happening in the club community and school spaces. If you have any events, please email them through before Monday mornings and I can include them in the weekly Facebook posts.

Final Words

National Volunteer Week

I would like to take this time to thank every single person who volunteers, your willingness to give your time, effort, and resources to others is greatly appreciated.

The presence of coaches, managers, and volunteers is essential in providing guidance, support, and organization to the teams and events. Your efforts are crucial in ensuring that the games can continue smoothly despite any weather-related obstacles. Additionally, the presence of supporters in the community showcases the shared love for the sport and provides encouragement to the participants, creating a vibrant and enthusiastic atmosphere.

WE THANK YOU!
